A Solo Show Presented by Saint Cloche.

Soothe the messy habits of your mind and slow your weary steps too. For she walks and collects, carrying the gifts of your old hands. Fibres of dusty stalks furl and loop, criss-cross and intersect. Only, follow the lines of the weaving and let your heart ache to its beat, For she will show us the way to plenty, forever just beyond... - Prue Gibson, Art writer and lecturer

Tracey Deep is an artist that needs little introduction.

Celebrated for her sustainable sculptures and installations using organic and industrial recycled materials for over two decades - her creations are as distinctive as a signature, and have graced events ranging from the Art Gallery of NSW to Belle magazine, and from Tropfest to Startrek, and from the Winter Olympics to Hugh Jackman.

This July, Tracey will reveal a body of work inspired by Spirit - a poem written in her honour by Prue Gibson - to be held at Saint Cloche gallery, Paddington. To all who have admired her work - this is an opportunity to not only see and feel her work up close, but also to acquire it for yourself.
